

Ben Bagdikian, Robert McChesney, and many others have documented the pollution of our information streams caused by media concentration. Yet you persist in exacerbating the problem.

If the people find out what you are up to they are going to be angry.